- Your eligibility for need-based aid was determined based on your Student Aid Index (SAI) calculated by the U.S. Department of Education using information you provided on your FAFSA. Your SAI was $30,381.
- You and your family may have additional borrowing eligibility beyond what is shown in the above offer. The enclosed information references other financing options, including payment plans, Federal Parent PLUS Loans, and private loans.
- If you wish to decrease/decline a loan or make changes to your enrollment/housing status, please indicate on this offer letter, sign below, and return it to our office using the contact information provided.
- Changes to your enrollment, updates to your FAFSA, or new documentation may affect your aid eligibility and could result in a revised financial aid offer.
- Work-study funds are not credited to the student's bill. Students must work in an eligible job on-campus and work the necessary hours to earn up to the amount for which they are eligible.
